PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

An Associated Press Dispatch from Santiago de Cuba says:

Mr. Jarvis, vice-president and Cuban manager of the North American Trust Company, who has been here for the last ten days establishing a Santiago office, will go to Havana, where he will establish headquarters for the whole island. The North American Trust Company acts as the fiscal agent of the United States in Cuba, all revenues, duties and taxes passing through its hands.

What is this North American Trust Company, anyhow? And why should it be delegated to act as the fiscal agent of the United States in Cuba, all revenues, duties and taxes passing through its hands? These are pertinent questions. The notion is abroad just now that Uncle Sam is capable of attending to his own business, however perplexing the details may be, and the people would like to know why a function so important as the one referred to should be performed by a private concern like the North American Trust Company, or any other company, for that matter. "Commissions" are had enough, but when it comes to turning the government's business over to a mushroom trust company it is time to investigate. If the United States government is incapable of conducting its affairs in Cuba it ought to go out of business.

The members of the Fifth Illinois regiment suffered from an overdose of bad luck, but there are others. Battery B, of Pennsylvania, had loaded cannon trained upon the Spaniards, awaiting the order to fire, when a horseman dashed up with the news of peace before the going sounded for the first round. How is this for an aggravated case of "hoo-doo?"

A Madrid newspaper was suppressed for declaring that "Spain, without colonies, is reduced to the role of a third rate power." Which goes to show that it is not always the best policy to tell the truth. In this case our Madrid contemporary might have avoided a heap of trouble by devoting a couple of columns to saying nothing, an art which is very common with the Sunday issues of the New York papers.

The war ended just too soon for Miles to capture Abonita. That peace protocol also came in a few knots ahead of Private John Allen's Congressional regiment.

Mark Hanna didn't rush to the front while the fighting was going on, but some persons are uncharitable enough to believe that he has offered his services to the government in connection with that trust company which is to collect the boodle at Santiago.

"The girl that kissed Hobson" is getting so numerous that she excites no interest in the souvenir collectors.

MARRIAGES ON SATURDAY.

Saturday Heretofore Regarded as Unlucky

Not the Fashionable Wedding Day. To get married on Saturday is the fashion of the summer. Society is standing open mouthed with astonishment at this new idea, for if there has been these last twenty years any one day regarded as peculiarly inappropriate and unlucky for weddings, that day has been Saturday. But of a sudden Saturday has been seized on as the day of all days for the most elaborate weddings of the moment. The most important weddings of the summer have been set for that day of the week, and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday have been cast quite into the shade.

What has brought this change of feeling about among the brides can hardly be told. Besides the prejudice that has always existed against Saturday itself it has long been the custom to have marriages take place in the early part of the week. Tuesday and Wednesday have been very favorite days. Only those people as a rule who have been indifferent to public opinion have ever even thought of getting married during the latter half of the week. This sudden making of Saturday as the fashionable wedding day of the summer is, therefore, little short of remarkable and is occasioning a great deal of talk.
